

Armstrong County Jail Officer of the Year

Written by Webmaster

Wednesday, 25 March 2009 10:33

Armstrong County Jail Warden David C. Hogue has announced that Officer Tracy A Mergen has received the "Officer of the Year" at the Armstrong County Jail. Criteria for selection of "Officer of the Year" was based on professionalism, quality of performance, attitude, dependability, safety, and commitment to excellence. Selection for "Officer of the Year" was done by nominations from fellow officers at the Armstrong County Jail. Warden Hogue and the Board of Commissioners commended Officer Mergen on her achievement, and complimented her on her outstanding attitude. Officer Mergen graduated from Lenape Vo-Tech and the Pennsylvania Department of Corrections Training Academy. Officer Mergen resides in the Kittanning area with her three children.