At the March 3, 2011 Public Meeting the Armstrong County Board of Commissioners adopted a Proclamation to honor the Armstrong County Chamber of Commerce Volunteer Citizen of the Year for 2011. Ms. Frances Bowley was this year's honoree.

Ms. Bowley has been a volunteer at the Armstrong County Memorial Hospital since she retired in 1986. She contributes approximately 15 to 20 hours weekly assisting in various secretarial skills and duties within the Community Relations Department and completing various other tasks as necessary. Ms. Bowley is also active in her parish, St. Mary Our Lady of Guadalupe Church, a member of Thursday Morning Bowling League and a participant of the Senior Games sponsored by the Armstrong County Area Agency on Aging.

According to the nomination letter: Defining an ideal volunteer is defining Frances Bowley's journey through this life, her most used expression is "What can I do to help?". The Board of Commissioners expressed their gratitude to Ms. Bowley for the contributions that she gives to the community and the positive role model that she is.

Commissioner Scahill, Commissioner Kirkpatrick, Ms. Frances Bowley, Commissioner Fink
