

Special Weather Notice

Written by Commissioners' Office
Friday, 28 February 2014 15:40

Following a Webinar and telephone conference with the National Weather Bureau on the impending snow storm Sunday night into Monday morning, the Armstrong County Courthouse doors will be open to the public but with minimal service.

In some cases an office may be closed and it is important those coming to the courthouse call 724-543-2500 or the individual office to be certain that office is open. In all events, the Common Pleas Court Judge will be available for emergency legal matters.
