

In the November Election, when I vote straight party, may I also vote for a candidate of another party?

Yes, you may vote straight party and also vote for a candidate of another party. The tabulation system will count all of the straight party votes and for the office you voted for another party candidate, the system will not count the straight party vote, but will count the vote for the candidate of your choice.